

The Ninth Treatise

On Mortification

1. That We Must Join Mortification to Prayer, and That These Two Things Must Help One Another.....	3
2. In What Mortification Consists, and the Need in Which We Stand of It.....	11
3. That One of the Greatest Chastisements of God Is to Give a Man Over to His Appetites and Desires, Abandoning Him so That He Goes After Them.....	16
4. Of Holy Hatred of Oneself, and the Spirit of Mortification and Penance That Is Born of It.....	18
5. That All Our Spiritual Advancement and Perfection Consists in Mortification.....	21
6. That Mortification Is Especially Necessary for Religious, Particularly for Such as Have to Do with Their Neighbor	24
7. Of Two Sorts of Mortification and Penance, and How the Society Embraces and Practises Both.....	27
8. That Mortification Is Not a Hatred, but a True Love, Not of Our Soul Alone, but Even of Our Very Body.....	38
9. That He Who Makes No Effort to Mortify Himself Does Not Only Not Live the Life of a Spiritual, but Not Even of a Rational, Being	41
10. That There Is Greater Trouble in Not Practising Mortification Than in Practising It.....	44
11. Here We Begin to Treat of That Practice of Mortification...	49
12. How the Exercise of Mortification Ought to Be Put in Practice	52
13. How We Should Mortify Ourselves in Lawful Things, and in Necessary Things, Too.....	56
14. That We Should Chiefly Mortify Ourselves in That Vice or Passion Which Has the Greater Sway over Us and Makes Us Fall into Our Greatest Faults.....	62
15. That We Ought Not to Omit Mortifications in Small Things, and How Profitable and Pleasing to God These Mortifications Are	64
16. Of the Harm and Mischief That Comes of Neglecting Mortification in Small Things.....	68
17. Three Important Admonitions Upon This Subject.....	71
18. That It Is Always Necessary to Exercise Ourselves in Mortification, How Good and Advanced Soever We May Be in Virtue	77

19. Of Two Means That Will Make the Practice of Mortification Easy and Sweet, Which Are the Grace of God and His Holy Love.....	81
20. Of Another Motive That Will Facilitate and Make Agreeable the Practice of Mortification, Namely, the Hope of Reward	86
21. What Has Been Said in the Preceding Chapter Is Confirmed by Some Examples.....	89
22. Of Another Motive That Will Help Us, and Render the Practice of Mortification Easy, Which Is the Example of Christ Our Redeemer.....	93
23. Of Three Degrees of Mortification.....	96

The Tenth Treatise

On Modesty and Silence

1. How Necessary Modesty Is for the Edification and Profit of Our Neighbor.....	105
2. How Necessary Modesty Is for Our Own Advancement.....	109
3. Of the Mistake of Those Who Make Small Account of These Exterior Things, Saying that Perfection Does Not Consist in Them.....	112
4. Of Silence, and the Great Blessings and Advantages There Are in It.....	116
5. That Silence Is a Very Important Means to Be a Man of Prayer	120
6. That Silence Is a Direct Means of Spiritual Advancement and the Attainment of Perfection.....	123
7. That to Live in Modest Silence and Recollection Is Not a Sad but a Very Cheerful Life.....	127
8. Of the Circumstances Necessary for Speaking Well.....	128
9. Of the Vice of Backbiting or Detraction.....	137
10. That We Should Not Lend Our Ears to Detractions.....	142
11. That We Must Beware of All Manner of Lies.....	147
12. That We Should Beware of Jocose and Ridiculous Expressions, and Saying Smart and Witty Things.....	150
13. That Our Talk and Conversations Ought to Be of God, and of Some Means to Make Them So.....	154
14. Of Another Chief Reason Making It Highly Befitting that Our Talks and Conversations with Our Neighbors Should Be about God.....	158

The Eleventh Treatise

On Humility

1. Of the Excellence of the Virtue of Humility, and the Need We Have of It.....	165
2. That Humility Is the Foundation of All Virtues.....	168
3. In Which It Is Shown More in Detail How Humility Is the Foundation of All Virtues, by Going Through the Chief of Them	171
4. Of the Particular Need in Which They Stand of This Virtue, Whose Profession It Is to Help on the Salvation of Their Neighbor	176
5. Of the First Degree of Humility, Which Is to Make Little Account of Oneself and Always Think Poorly of Oneself..	187
6. Of Self-Knowledge as the Root, and the Sole and Necessary Means to Attain Humility.....	190
7. Of Another Main Motive for a Man to Know Himself and Gain Humility, Which Is the Consideration of His Sins....	193
8. How We Should So Exercise Ourselves in Self-Knowledge as Not to Be Discouraged or Lose Confidence.....	197
9. Of the Good Things and Great Advantages That There Are in the Exercise of Self-Knowledge.....	201
10. That Self-Knowledge Does Not Bring Discouragement, but Rather Courage and Strength.....	205
11. Of Other Great Goods and Advantages That There Are in Self-Knowledge	208
12. How Much It Behooves Us to Exercise Ourselves in Self-Knowledge	211
13. Of the Second Degree of Humility, Explaining in What It Consists	216
14. Of Some Degrees and Steps Whereby to Mount to the Perfection of This Second Degree of Humility.....	221
15. Of the Fourth Step, Which Is to Desire to Be Run Down, and Go for Little or Nothing, and to Rejoice Therein.....	226
16. That the Perfection of Humility and Other Virtues Lies in Doing the Acts Thereof with Delight and Pleasure, and How Important This Is for Perseverance in Virtue.....	231
17. A Further Explanation of the Perfection That Must Be Secured to Mount to This Second Degree of Humility.....	234

18. Of Some Means to Gain This Second Degree of Humility, and Particularly the Example of Christ Our Lord.....	238
19. Of Some Human Reasons and Considerations That We Have at Hand to Help Us to Be Humble.....	242
20. Of Some Other Human Considerations to Help to Make Us Humble	245
21. That a Sure Way to Be Regarded and Esteemed by Men Is to Give Oneself Up to the Virtue of Humility.....	249
22. That Humility Is the Means to Attain True Peace of Soul, and We Shall Never Arrive at That without It.....	254
23. Of Another Manner of Means More Effectual for Gaining the Virtue of Humility: By Practising It.....	260
24. What Has Been Said Is Confirmed by Some Examples.....	266
25. Of the Exercise of Humility That We Have in Religion.....	272
26. That We Must Be on Our Guard against Uttering Words That May Redound to Our Praise.....	276
27. How We Should Exercise Ourselves at Meditation in the Second Degree of Humility.....	280
28. How We Are to Make the Particular Examen on the Virtue of Humility.....	283
29. How Humility Is Compatible with Seeking to Be Regarded and Esteemed by Men.....	291
30. Of the Third Degree of Humility.....	300
31. Further Elucidation of the Third Degree of Humility.....	306
32. Further Elucidation of the Same.....	309
33. Further Elucidation of the Third Degree of Humility, and How It Comes Thereof that the Truly Humble Takes Himself for the Least of All.....	312
34. How Good and Holy Men Can with Truth Hold Themselves to Be the Least of All and Say that They Are the Greatest Sinners in the World.....	318
35. That This Third Degree of Humility Is the Means to Overcome All Temptations and Obtain the Perfection of All Virtues	324
36. That Humility Is Not Contrary to Magnanimity, but Is the Foundation and Cause Thereof.....	327
37. Of Other Good Things and Great Advantages There Are in This Third Degree of Humility.....	334
38. Of the Great Favors and Benefits That God Does to the Humble, and What Is the Reason Why He Exalts Them So Much.....	339

TABLE OF CONTENTS

xi

39. How Important It Is for Us to Betake Ourselves to Humility to Make Up Thereby for What Is Wanting to Us in Virtue and Perfection, and That God May Not Humble and Chastise Us.....	342
40. In Which What Has Been Said Is Confirmed by Some Examples	349

The Twelfth Treatise

On Temptation

1. That Temptations Cannot Fail to Come in This Life.....	355
2. How Some Are Tempted at the Beginning of Their Entry into Religion, or into the Church, Others Afterwards.....	358
3. Why the Lord Wishes Us to Have Temptations, and of the Utility and Profit That Ensue Upon Them.....	363
4. Of Other Benefits and Advantages That Temptations Bring with Them	365
5. That Temptations Avail Us Greatly to Know and Humble Ourselves, and Have More Recourse to God.....	370
6. That in Temptations the Just Are Further Proved and Purified, and Take Root Better in Virtue.....	372
7. That Temptations Make a Man Diligent and Fervent.....	378
8. That the Saints and Servants of God Not Only Do Not Grow Sorrowful over Their Temptations, but Rather Rejoice for the Profit They Make Thereby.....	381
9. That in Temptations One Learns Lessons Not for Oneself Only, but for Others.....	383
10. Here Begins the Enumeration of Remedies Against Temptations, and First on the Part of the Mind, the Strength and Cheerfulness Which We Should Keep in Dealing with Them	387
11. How Little It Is That the Devil Can Do against Us.....	388
12. That We Should Draw Great Courage and Confidence for Struggling with Temptations from the Consideration That God Is Looking at Us.....	392
13. Of Two Excellent Reasons for Fighting with Great Courage and Confidence under Temptation.....	394
14. That God Permits No One to Be Tempted beyond His Strength, and That We Must Not Be Discouraged at the Temptation Growing or Continuing.....	395

15. That to Distrust Ourselves, and Place Our Whole Confidence in God Is a Great Means to Overcome Temptations, and Why God So Readily Comes to the Help of Those Who Trust in Him.....	399
16. Of Prayer as a Remedy: Some Ejaculatory Prayers Suitable for Time of Temptation.....	402
17. Of Two Other Remedies against Temptation.....	404
18. Of Two Other Chief Remedies, Which Are to Resist Temptation in Its Beginnings, and Never to Be Idle.....	405
19. Of Temptations Which Come Under the Appearance of Good, and that the Great Remedy for All Such Temptations Is to Recognize and Hold Them for What They Are.....	408
20. How We Should Behave in Temptations of Evil and Impure Thoughts, and of Remedies against Them.....	412
21. That in Different Temptations We Should Behave Differently as to Our Manner of Resisting Them.....	419
22. Some Important Pieces of Advice for the Time of Temptation	421

The Thirteenth Treatise

Of Inordinate Affection for Kindred

1. How Important It Is for a Religious to Avoid Visits to Relations and Journeys to His Own Native Place.....	429
2. That a Religious Should Also Avoid, as Far as Possible, Being Visited by His Relations and Any Communication with Them by Letter.....	436
3. That Even though It Be under Plea of Preaching, a Religious Should Shun Intercourse with His Relations and Visits to His Native Place.....	439
4. That a Religious Should Stand Particularly on His Guard against Occupying Himself with the Business Affairs of His Relations	442
5. What Has Been Said Is Confirmed by Some Examples.....	445
6. Of Other Evils and Losses Caused by Affection for Kindred, and How Christ Our Redeemer Taught Us to Keep Out of Their Way.....	448
7. How This Temptation Is Apt to Disguise Itself Not Only under the Appearance of Piety, but of That of Duty, and the Remedy to be Applied Thereunto.....	451

The Fourteenth Treatise

On Joy and Sadness

1. Of the Great Mischiefs That Follow from Sadness..... 459
2. In Which Are Given Sundry Reasons Why It Befits Us to Serve God Cheerfully..... 463
3. That the Ordinary Faults into Which We Fall Should Not Be Enough to Make Us Abandon This Cheerfulness..... 468
4. Of the Roots and Causes of Sadness, and Its Remedies..... 470
5. That Recourse to Prayer Is a Grand Means for Getting Rid of Sadness 474
6. Of Another Very Ordinary Root of Sadness, Which Is the Not Going on As We Should Do in the Service of God; and of the Great Cheerfulness That Comes of a Good Conscience 476
7. That There Is Such a Thing as Good and Holy Sadness..... 481

The Fifteenth Treatise

On Our Treasures in Jesus Christ

1. Of the Treasures and Great Blessings That We Have in Christ 489
2. How Profitable and Pleasing to God Is Meditation on the Passion of Christ Our Redeemer..... 500
3. Of the Method to Be Followed in Meditating the Passion of Christ Our Redeemer, and of the Sentiment of Compassion Which We Should Draw from Thence..... 502
4. Of the Sentiment of Sorrow and Contrition for Our Sins, Which We Should Gather from the Meditation on the Passion of Christ Our Lord..... 506
5. Of the Sentiment of Love of God..... 511
6. Of the Sentiments of Gratitude and Thanksgiving..... 514
7. Of the Sentiments of Admiration and Hope..... 518
8. Of the Imitation of Christ as the Fruit Which We Should Gather from Meditation on His Mysteries..... 523
9. In Which Is Established by Sundry Examples How Profitable and Agreeable to God Is Meditation on the Passion of Christ Our Redeemer..... 527

The Sixteenth Treatise

On Holy Communion and the Mass

1. Of the Inestimable Benefit and Great Love That the Lord Has Shown Us in the Institution of This Divine Sacrament 533
2. Of the Excellent and Wonderful Things That Faith Teaches for Our Belief in This Divine Sacrament..... 539
3. Here Begins the Discourse on the Preparation Which the Excellence and Dignity of the Divine Sacrament Requires 548
4. Of the Cleanness and Purity, Not Only from Mortal Sins, but Also from Venial Sins and Imperfections, with Which We Should Approach Holy Communion..... 551
5. Of a More Particular Disposition and Preparation Where-with We Should Approach This Divine Sacrament..... 555
6. Other Considerations and Modes of Preparation, Very Useful for Holy Communion..... 558
7. What We Are to Do after Having Received the Divine Sacrament, and What Should Be Our Thanksgiving..... 562
8. Of Other Methods of Thanksgiving..... 564
9. Of the Fruit That We Should Gather from Holy Communion 566
10. That the Frequentation of Holy Communion Is a Great Remedy against All Temptations, and Particularly for the Preservation of Chastity..... 569
11. Of the Chief Fruit to Be Gathered from Holy Communion, Which Is Our Union with and Transformation into Christ 572
12. Of Another Main Fruit Which We Should Gather from Holy Communion, Which Is to Offer and Resign Ourselves Entirely into the Hands of God; and of the Preparation and Thanksgiving to Be Made Conformably Thereto..... 575
13. Seeing That This Divine Sacrament Works Such Wonderful Effects, What Is the Reason Why Some Who Frequent It Do Not Experience Them in Themselves..... 582
14. Of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass..... 587
15. How to Hear Mass..... 595
16. Some Examples on the Devotion of Hearing Mass, and Saying It Every Day, and the Reverence That We Should Have in Assisting at It..... 606